The SCC notes that there are several legislative proposals advancing that require the agency to conduct a study, write a report, or lead a workgroup. When considered in combination with one or more additional studies, reports, and work groups assigned to the SCC within other pending legislative proposals, the SCC estimates the fiscal impact for FY 2023 to be between $100,000 and $300,000, depending on the number of additional studies, reports, and work groups.
