4. Title: Antique motor vehicles and antique trailers; license plates.

5. Summary: Requires the Department of Motor Vehicles to accept multiple requests for the same license plate number for antique motor vehicles and antique trailers if the number combination is not currently registered on license plates embossed with the year matching the plate being requested and only one license plate with the same number combination has been issued for use after 1973 or, if the plate requested is for a motorcycle, 1976.

6. Budget Amendment Necessary: No.

7. Fiscal Impact Estimates: Final. See Item #8.

8. Fiscal Implications: An antique motor vehicle is one that was manufactured in a calendar year not less than 25 years prior and owned solely as a collector's item. Depending on how the vehicle owner plans to use the vehicle, the owner may choose antique, vintage, or any one of the Department of Motor Vehicles' (DMV) standard license plates. Antique license plates are issued by DMV, while vintage license plates are original Virginia license plates issued prior to 1973 that the vehicle owner provides. Vehicles manufactured in or after 1973 are not eligible to use vintage license plates, as DMV began issuing yearly decals in 1973. (Motorcycles are an exception to this, as DMV issued yearly embossed motorcycle plates until 1976.) When customers provide vintage license plates, the year embossed on the license plate must match the model year of the vehicle. In addition, DMV must inspect and approve the physical condition of the vintage plates. In 2007, the General Assembly enacted language to prevent DMV from authorizing vintage plates with duplicate numbers. DMV charges a one-time $50 registration fee to register a vehicle with a permanent vintage license plate.

Under § 46.2-730, the use of antique vehicles, trailers, motorcycles and autocycles registered with antique plates is limited to the participation in club activities, exhibits, tours, parades and similar events and to carrying or transporting passengers, personal effects and other antique vehicles for show purposes. They may also be used on Virginia highways to test vehicle/trailer operation, obtaining maintenance or repairs and/or to sell the vehicle or trailer. Antique plates permit occasional pleasure driving (not to exceed 250 miles from the owner's residence) but are not to be used for general transportation purposes, including but not limited to, daily travel to and from the owner's place of employment. A violation of antique plate usage is a Class 4 misdemeanor, with the owner's registration for the vehicle involved in the violation to be revoked for a five-year period from the date of conviction.

This bill proposes amending § 46.2-730 to require DMV to authorize the use of vintage plates with plate numbers that match a single set of plates produced after 1973 (1976 for motorcycles). The bill limits the use of vintage plates with duplicate plate numbers to one plate number per year embossed on the plate.

In order to implement the bill, the agency will incur programming costs estimated at $58,036. The 788 staff hours required can be accomplished during the normal work schedules for DMV employees, given current workloads.
